

Student traffic controller

The student traffic controller's responsibility out on the street in front of our school is very high.

There a lot of children have to cross the street in the morning. The four student traffic controllers help them to do this safely. Every student traffic controller works with a partner. They look straight, right and left and if no car comes the student traffic controller says loudly "Free!". If a car comes they say "Stop!".

If every controller says free they go onto the street and stay there until the students have crossed safely.
